The Changing Face of Football

Football has undergone many changes since it was first played on dirt pitches with pigs' bladders, but none so revolutionary as the rising status of women in the world game.

The profile of women in soccer is still relatively small but nevertheless on the increase. Both the amount of media coverage and number of females playing the round ball code have increased dramatically in recent years. Prior to acceptance as an Olympic sport in 1993 only around 8,000 women were registered as players in Australia. However, by 1998 registrations had jumped dramatically to 58,000 (an amazing 51% of which were in NSW). This phenomenal growth has been mirrored worldwide. Little wonder FIFA President Sepp Blatter has declared that "the future of football is feminine".

The granting of Olympic status resulted in increased Government funding which in turn meant more money to broaden women's soccer at grassroots level. As player numbers increase, so too do the number of clubs with women's teams, subsequently the opportunities open for a young girl looking for a suitable local team also increase.

Meanwhile press coverage of women's soccer has dramatically increased with the national team (The Matilda's) being the main beneficiary, so much so that the term Matilda's, is now widely recognised.

The appointment of Tracey Holmes to the SBS panel for the 1998 World Cup is a further indication of media recognition of an apparent new market of football supporters that demands attention.

This increased media focus has been of benefit in more ways than one. Prominent player and NSW captain Anissa Tann-Darby recalls the days when the average woman playing soccer was invariably scoffed at.

"People see a woman playing top level soccer now be it at the Olympics, World Cup or the newly formed National League and I find the old aspersions generally cast on women players as being no good, no longer applies. This rise in profile has been a major contributing factor in changing old fashion attitudes."

Of course, women have invariably been the backbone of junior club administration, canteens and car pools, but in modern times this grassroots support has broadened to include important executive positions in major clubs. One only need to look at Karren Brady, the high profile Managing Director of English club Birmingham City, to realise how far women have penetrated what was once considered a man's domain.

Closer to home and Parramatta Eagles President Doris Drewery in her fifth year at the helm is, at this point, a rarity - a woman leading a semi-professional Australian club. Despite this, the length of tenure suggests that she has had the full support of the club members.

"It was surprising really but I got basically 100% support from our supporters, which I guess is a credit to them in that they were prepared to be open minded right from the start."

"On the whole I believe women tend to sit back and listen to opinion rather than dominate proceedings. I try to be all inclusive and I think that has helped. Of course it's a male dominated sport but eventually that will turn around."

Similarly fellow Super League clubs, namely Central Coast and St George currently have women in key administrative roles. Lynn Mackie and Dot Buckley wear the mantle of Club Secretary with pride and are both known for their dedication and hard work.

Even the Socceroos are showing that you don't have to be a man to be part of the team set-up: the national team manager is Bonnie Mersiades, also the NSW Federation's Marketing and Media Manager.

Women have been involved with club canteens for many years but while some might consider the canteen run by home clubs as a relatively small cog in a big wheel, canteen proceeds are in fact a vital part of the financial solvency of any club. At Sutherland, Van Bucek has been a regular face in the canteen for so long and provided such invaluable service that she has been made a Life Member. Like so many women Van has dedicated countless hours to a sport and club that she loves and this fact has obviously been recognised by the club.

Whilst football has traditionally been a male dominated sport, the tide is turning - and fast. Mothers, wives, sisters and girlfriends are not necessarily relegated to simply sitting on the sideline, but are encouraged to put on a pair of boots or head up the board table.

Such is the new face of football.

Down to Business

With Perth Glory stitching-up the NSL minor premiership - which carries the same prize money as the NSW Super League premiership - last week, Andrew Howe previews the NSL finals series for us. Three NSW teams take up half of finals spots on offer.

The home and away series of the NSL's 24th season concluded last weekend, Perth Glory confirming the minor premiership with a 1-0 home victory over the Northern Spirit. As it turned out, the Glory could have afforded a loss as second placed Wollongong were defeated 2-1 away to Carlton - giving Perth a four point buffer at the top, and securing third spot for Carlton. Adelaide City wrapped up fourth position after defeating the Knights 3-1 in Adelaide, Olympic won 3-0 at home over Sydney United which gave the blue and whites fifth spot, while Marconi succumbed to a last minute equaliser by the Cosmos - the 1-1 draw at Bruce Stadium placing Marconi sixth. (Elsewhere, South Melbourne won at home against Newcastle 4-0, the Kingz finished in the top half of the table at their first attempt after winning 1-0 at Parramatta, and in Brisbane the Strikers 2 defeated Gippsland, 1.)

Week one of the finals series commences on Saturday at Marconi Stadium with the Marconi Stallions up against Carlton in the first leg of the first elimination final.

Earlier this season Carlton equalled Marconi's worst ever loss at Marconi Stadium with a 4-0 hammering back in October, although the Stallions gained some revenge drawing 1-1 in the return fixture in February. In all seven previous meetings, Carlton have won four and Marconi two (one draw). The teams have met just once before in the finals series - when a last-minute Marco Bresciano goal gave the Blues a 1-0 victory over Marconi at Olympic Park in the 1997-98 preliminary final.

The form guide sees the Stallions with just one win and a draw in their past four outings, although in games at Marconi Stadium the Sydney team have won three out of their past four. Carlton's form looks much healthier having won three and drawn the remaining one of their last four games, while in their previous four away games Carlton have attained two victories, one draw and one loss.

With 55 goals to Marconi and 53 to Carlton so far this season, the teams have similar attacking records. Sydney born and bred Sean Babic (14 goals so far this season) is the main danger man up front for the Stallions, while Brazilian import Alex Moreira (15 goals) is the one most likely to break through for Carlton. Defensively the Melbourne team have the better record with 39 goals conceded compared with Marconi's 49.

The Stallions travel to Olympic Park Melbourne to play the return leg the following Friday.

The other first leg elimination semi final, will be played Sydney Olympic meet Adelaide City Force at the Belmore Sports Ground on Sunday.

Honours in the 1999-2000 regular season have been shared - Olympic winning their home match 2-0 in December, the Force victorious with the same scoreline at Hindmarsh Stadium six weeks ago.

The two foundation clubs of the NSL have met 47 times in all games since 1977, Adelaide with a slight ascendancy winning 20 compared with Olympic's 18 (nine draws). The teams have clashed six times in previous finals series, four matches going Adelaide's way, the remaining two going to Olympic.

The two teams played off for the 1986 championship - in those days decided over two legs - with Olympic winning the first leg 1-0 in Adelaide but losing 1-3 at home to give Adelaide City their first ever NSL premiership. Other matches in finals series were played in 1989-90 (Olympic winning 2-1), 91-92 (Adelaide getting up 2-1) and over two legs in 95-96 (Adelaide victorious both times 2-0 and 1-0).

Recent form shown by the two teams contrasts dramatically, although both won convincingly last Sunday. In mid-March Olympic actually led the NSL table, with Adelaide City way behind in eleventh position. But in their remaining nine games, the Sydney team won just twice, while the in-form Force have since secured eight wins to overtake Olympic. After being dead last after round 11,Adelaide City's rise to fourth in unprecedented in the NSL's history.

Adelaide has the edge, albeit slightly, in goal difference so far this season, 57 for to 37 against compared with Olympic's 56 for to 40 against. The league's top scorer, Adelaide's Damian Mori, will be the one most likely to add to his 99-00 season tally (which currently stands at 22 goals), although Olympic's forward line does boast the league's second highest scorer Pablo Cardozo (19 goals).

The return match will be played at Adelaide's Hindmarsh Stadium on Sunday 21 May.

The major semi final, also played over two legs, features Wollongong Wolves against Perth Glory. After resting for a weekend, these teams play the first leg at Brandon Park, Wollongong, on Sunday 21May. The return leg is played in Perth on Saturday May 27. Perth won both corresponding fixtures this season, 2-1 in Perth in January, and 1-0 at Brandon Park three weeks ago. Whoever wins on aggregate here goes straight to the Grand Final, as hosts, to be played on Sunday June 11.

The winners of the Carlton-Marconi and Adelaide City-Sydney Olympic elimination semis will play-off in week three in the minor semi final. The winner of the minor semi final then takes on the loser out of Perth-Wollongong, in week four, with the winner of this game to proceed to the grand final.

The Parramatta Eagles took a huge step in securing a top five spot after a fine 3-1 win over the Bonnyrigg White Eagles at Melita Stadium.

After a run of four draws, three of them against teams the Eagles would have expected to beat, a win was needed against league leaders Bonnyrigg. A win is what the Eagles got.

Two goals in three minutes ultimately sealed victory for the home side, although former Eagle Sasha Utjesenovic caused the home fans' hearts to flutter when he pulled a goal back on the stroke of half-time. At 2-1 at the break the second half was there for the taking, and it was the Eagles, and in particular Adam Anderson, who grasped the opportunity with a fine goal.

Both teams went into the game under strength in midfield, Parramatta missing Alex Trpkoski who failed a late fitness test, while Tom Bazdaric was only fit enough for a place on the bench. Countering that Bonnyrigg were missing Javier Mancino, and Michael Hawrysuik, like Bazdaric, started from the bench.

The changes meant Stephen Chipps moved into midfield for the Eagles, and Geoff Dwyer went into central defence as one of a back three alongside Mark Reveley and Daniel Borg. It was Chipps who made the first impression on the game, nearly proving an unlikely goalscorer. There was just a minute gone when he met Geoff Dwyer's cross with a fine volley, but Sasha Bozic in Bonnyrigg's goal was equal to the task.

Ten minutes later Malcolm Meilak was well set-up by Anderson, but his effort lacked power, before Ben Green broke for Bonnyrigg only to shoot wide. It was a case of a chance falling to the wrong person for Bonnyrigg on 14 minutes, Stewart Van Bentum's cross being headed over the bar by Robbie Gomez, who didn't quite have the height to head downwards. One wonders what the outcome would have been if the taller Colin Luff was in the same position.

A minute later Parramatta went ahead with the opening goal of the game. A good interchange involving Anderson and Meilak saw Meilak avoid a desperate challenge in the penalty area before cleverly lifting the ball over Bozic. Three minutes later it was 2-0. This time it was Anthony Mittiga who got his name on the score sheet, cutting inside well onto his less favoured right foot and hammering home from 20 metres out, possibly with the aide of a slight deflection.

It looked like the Eagles would go in ahead 2-0 at the break, but Utjesenovic, playing in a left midfield role, got on the end of a Johnny Ghisso cross. The ball skimmed off Luff's head and fell to Utjesenovic, who finished remarkably confidently with a left-footed volley.

Any hopes Bonnyrigg had of getting on level terms after the break were dashed after 50 minutes. Anderson got the ball on the halfway line with his back to goal, with Tayfun Devrimol, as he had been all game, right behind him, before cleverly back-heeling the ball to the on-rushing Mittiga. Anderson turned quickly in support, and Mittiga's ball back to Anderson carried just the right weight. Anderson then let the ball run across his body to wrong-foot a defender, before firing home to make it 3-1. If there is any team that can come back from 3-1 down its Bonnyrigg, but Parramatta, in truth, never really looked like losing as they defended in numbers. Nikolce Joseski continually dropped into midfield leaving Anderson up-front on his own, and Chipps in midfield also dropped back as another defender when needed.

Jason Holmes had a number of crosses to deal with, and as usual he did so faultlessly, but it wasn't until the 62nd minute he was called to make a save, doing well to tip a Ben Green effort round the post. Seven minutes later Ghisso then hit the outside of the post after cutting back onto his left-foot, before Meilak superbly set up Joseski who should have finished the game off. Meilak did all the hard work to present Joseski with a clear sight on goal, but he shot narrowly wide with just Bozic to beat.

Teyfun Devrimol was then given the benefit of the doubt by referee Boyd McGregor when he hauled down Anderson as the striker went through on goal, only seeing yellow with the referee ruling that the defenders coming across had done so quickly enough to be classed as cover.

Bonnyrigg's last effort on goal came when substitute Leigh Gunn showed good skill to chip the ball up for Gomez, and his cross was superbly defended by Reveley under enormous pressure.

Picking players out for special mention for Parramatta seems slightly unfair, as every player did their job. Malcolm Meilak again was outstanding but if any player deserved praise it was midfielder Saso Boskovski, especially for his second half performance. Using all his experience 'Charlie' continually harried Bonnyrigg's David Reid, and also showed some great touches. After being injured it was thought that Boskoski might not play in the first team again, but his players in the Parramatta under 18's could do much worse than watch the way their coach played.

For Bonnyrigg, Devrimol's battle with Anderson was a highlight, but apart from that none of their players really played to their ability. Whether they were allowed to by Parramatta is a matter for the Bonnyrigg coaching staff to work out.

The win should be the fillip Parramatta need to start converting some of their draws into wins, while for Bonnyrigg top spot and 39 points from 18 games is a fair return. There will be no panic at the Serbian Centre, especially as they entertain Blacktown on Saturday night. A win there will quickly see this result forgotten!

Parramatta coach Roberto Viera said after the game that it had been a "good win"', and he was delighted with the effort of his team. That was proved as he didn't make any changes during the game, his substitutes sitting unused as he watched his starting eleven do a fine job.

Bonnyrigg coach John Turner bemoaned his side's lack of intensity in the game, and felt that once Parramatta had scored it suited the style they played. He felt that if Bonnyrigg had been the first scorers it could have been a different game.

Since being defeated by Bonnyrigg 6-1 in round 5 Parramatta has now gone 13 games unbeaten, while the White Eagles have simply been superb this season after a slightly shaky couple of opening games. It means its 1-1 between the two teams this season so far, and there's a good chance the teams will have the chance to play a 'decider' sometime in July but with a bigger prize than three points. Like this game, it will certainly be worth watching.

SUPER LEAGUE 2000 Round 18

Blacktown stand poised to wrest the lead from Bonnyrigg on the Super League ladder when they meet at the Serbian Centre next Saturday.

With the teams only one point apart before the start of the games just completed on the weekend, Blacktown saw their fixture against St George washed-out. Thus, with a game in hand, they had the added bonus of their traditional rivals suffering a shock 3-1 loss to Parramatta Eagles at Melita Stadium. Our Match of the Day report is on pages 8 and 9.

Leichhardt Tigers had an anticipated 1-0 win over Eastern Suburbs with captain Steve Karavatakis scoring the only goal in the 20th minute.

Other games from Round 18 are reviewed below.

While next Saturday's showdown between Bonnyrigg and Blacktown could well be the premiership decider, there are interesting tests for Central Coast against St George at St George Stadium, and for Canterbury Marrickville against Leichhardt at Lambert Park also.

Summary: A dour first-half gave way to an exhilarating display of attacking football from both Sutherland and Manly in the second set of forty-five. Manly's best player on the night, Mark Beldham, gave his side the lead in the 63rd minute when he turned and shot past Dennes Olla. As the clock wound down, it seemed that Beldham's strike had secured the points for Manly, but, the never-say-die Sharks, led by hardworking midfielder Wayne Gibson, equalised with just three minutes of normal time remaining, with Con Paradisis banging home a penalty.

Summary: Despite the disappointment of a draw at home, Central Coast Coasties nonetheless had good news after their fixture against Penrith Panthers on Saturday night. For a start, both Shane Knight and captain, Peter Preston, returned from injury and appear to have come through unscathed. Secondly, the Coasties managed to score two goals from just six chances in a match that they did not, for once, dominate.

Preston played three-quarters of the Under 21 match to test his leg and help his fitness, while Knight played 20 minutes in the first-grade game and scored the Coasties' equaliser.

The match itself was played on a slippery pitch following several days heavy rain, with most action concentrated in midfield.

Match Facts...Match Fact

The first real attempt to score came after fourteen minutes when Marcus Steele fired a 25 metre drive past the Penrith goal. A good move by Penrith then saw Danny Hinton put the ball in the net, only to be given offside. Two minutes later Hinton did it again, slipping the ball past Gary Meier. Bob Casserly took a Penrith free kick which Chris Ackerley flicked on for a goal-bound header only to see Meier brilliantly tip the ball over the bar. Meier made another fine save a few minutes later from another free kick from Martin Driene.

Coasties had a blistering shot by Dane Hokin stopped by Penrith 'keeper, Ivan Necevski, who was unable to stop a low drive from ten metres out by Peter Ritchie to bring the score level just before the interval. Unfortunately, just after half-time, a downpour hit Pluim Park which not only saw the crowd scatter for cover, but also turned the previously greasy pitch into an ice-skating rink, with players slipping and sliding everywhere. Paul Roberts put a great ball through to an unmarked Stuart Sontag and, with an open goal from eight metres out, stumbled on the surface, released the ball but it gave Necevski time to smother the shot.

Chris Ackerley made up for his first half disappointment with a goal that gave the Panthers the lead. Both teams then made several substitutions with Coasties bringing on Nathan Byrn and Shane Knight and Panthers bringing on Fitzsimmons and Buckpitt. Despite such a lengthy lay-off from injury, Knight immediately showed he had recovered with a number of strong runs down the left. With six minutes to go, he took a free kick from 20 metres out which skidded across the penalty area, slipping under the 'keeper and in for the equaliser.

Fairfield Bulls v Bankstown Lions

Nineveh Field, Sunday 7 May

Fairfield, 3 (Zabetakis 14', Borg 44'/85') - Bankstown, 0

Corners: 3
Free kicks: 4
Sent off: Raeburn, 62'

Super Soccer rating: 3.5

Summary: The Fairfield Bulls started slowly with Bankstown having the early dominance. But the game changed in an instant when a cross from Taner Omac found George Zabetakis outside the box and, with one player to beat, scored a great goal off his left foot.

Despite a golden chance missed by Bankstown a few minutes later, Fairfield continued to press and while Sam Larocca's shot in the 22nd minute went wide with only the 'keeper to beat, Matthew Borg made no mistake when he outjumped the defence to head in a cross from Darren Iocca.

The second half was flat until Omac broke down the right and crossed to Larocca. Again, with the 'keeper committed, his shot went wide. The game was all but over when Borg scored again - this time a superb goal from outside the box to take his tally for the season to 12.

Fairfield's Under 21s drew 2-2 and Under 18s defeated Bankstown 2-1.

What the ratings mean:

(	Should have stayed home
((	Average game
(((	A good contest
((((	We're glad we went
(((((	A real cracker!

Summary: On a chilly afternoon at Henson Park, Canterbury-Marrickville had an impressive return to form last Sunday, defeating the hapless Macarthur Rams 2-0.

The Berries got on the board as early as the 7th minute, when Abbas Saad did well to convert a crafty Christoforidis back-heel on the edge of the penalty area, steering the ball clear of Rams custodian Peter Munsie.

With the score still 1-0 in favour of Canterbury at the main break it was expected that Macarthur would come out firing. However, it was quite the opposite - with the Berries running riot from the whistle, keeping possession and looking very dangerous in front of goal.

In the 55th minute, Abaas Saad got his second from a free kick just outside the area which deflected off the wall and into the net. Despite some late chances to Canterbury, the score line didn't change, remaining 2-0 up until the final whistle.

Round 19 Preview

with Mark Fowler

Round 19 kicks off with the game of the season so far when Bonnyrigg host Blacktown at the Serbian Centre. A big crowd, the top two teams and some of the best talent in the league on show. It doesn't get much better.

Blacktown will go into the game with a week's rest after their game with St George was washed out last Saturday. The experts can decide if that's a good thing or not for the Demons. Blacktown coach Brian Brown looks to have a fairly settled squad at the moment, although defender Matthew Lowe is still out with a long-term injury.

Bonnyrigg will be hoping Michael Hawrysiuk is fit to play after a substitute appearance last weekend against Parramatta, but Javier Mancino is 50/50 at this stage to play. It was 4-3 the last time the team's met at the Gabbie Stadium, and the same again would certainly keep the crowd on the edge of their seats.

On the same night Parramatta travel to Macarthur on the back of their fine win over Bonnyrigg. Tom Bazdaric should be fit to play against the Rams, who slipped up against Canterbury last week at Henson Park. It was a draw, no surprise with Parramatta being involved, the last time the team's met, and the Eagles will be looking for the same at the very least. A win would just about confirm another finals spot for Parramatta, although defeat and a Central Coast win against St George would again make it very interesting.

There are five games scheduled for Sunday, and Super Soccer will be at Leichhardt to watch the Tigers take on Canterbury.

The Tigers had a good win last week over Eastern Suburbs. Congratulations 'Kara'. Veteran defender Chris Cowley has rejoined Ryde City after doing a fine job at the Tigers this season, so the home side could be slightly short in defence as the season rolls on.

For Canterbury nothing less than a win will suffice, but last week's 2-0 win over Macarthur should be a boost to both the club and to Abaas Saad, scorer of both goals for the Berries.

Bankstown entertains Eastern Suburbs at Jensen Park still looking to break their home drought this season. They face a Wanderers side who not only defeated the Lions 2-0 earlier in the season, but also welcome back the familiar face of Vadim Mikoutski, the midfielder who starred last season for Eastern Suburbs before his untimely departure from these shores.

It should be an interesting game at St George Stadium when the Saints take on the Coasties. The two teams drew at Pluim Park earlier this season thanks to a late, late goal for St George, but time has been kinder to the Saints and they will fancy their chances of not only securing their own top five spot but also putting a dent in the Coasties play-off aspirations. The Coasties slipped up drawing a couple of games that they were expected to win at Pluim Park recently, and those dropped points could cost them dear at the end of the season.

The other games see Manly entertain Fairfield at Cromer Park, and Penrith and Sutherland clash at Seymour Shaw Field. Fairfield are the team with the most to play for after their 3-0 win over Bankstown, and another win against the Dolphins is vital if the Bulls are any hope of a top five spot. Manly have been in solid form of late though and will not be giving anything away. Penrith and Sutherland have also had much better second halves to the season, which is a credit to both teams. The teams are level on points, although the Panthers do have a game in hand over the Sharks. With manly just three points below the two side's they know slipping up here could see them go to the bottom of the table.

It should be another fine weekend of Super League action, as week by week the ladder starts to reveal more about the make-up of the teams that will be in action come finals time.

Summary: Marconi showed too much class to score a comfortable 8-0 victory over a persistent Macarthur side. Marconi seemed to be in cruise control for much of the match and again racked up a large score line. Marconi captain Alicia Cavanagh had a field day scoring 4 goals, 2 inside the first 10 minutes, while exciting young talent Catherine Cannuli scored a hat trick before being rested after 60 minutes. The goal of the day of was provided in the 64th minute when Joanne Peters magnificently struck a free kick from 30 metres out giving the keeper no chance to get even get a glove on the ball.

For Marconi Wendy Graham and Joanne Peters had solid matches, while the five youthful Marconi substitutes showed that they too have what it takes to press for selection in the top team.

Macarthur should be pleased with the effort which they put in against a side with plenty of talent and depth and will be able to draw positives from the match. Marconi rested several senior players towards the end of the match in preparation for next weeks clash with league leaders Northern NSW.

Marconi Coach Geoff Stanmore was impressed with the way his side "held possession nicely", commenting that his team "did what they had to do". Stanmore was also looking forward to the challenge of taking on Northern NSW in the next rounds big match.

In other Women's Super League matches ...

The match of the round between the NSWITC and Manly is to be rescheduled due to wet weather as is the case for the Gladesville match against the Central Coast Lakers. Of the matches which were played this round, league leaders Northern NSW defeated Wollongong 3-1 to remain two points clear at the top of the ladder. Sutherland continued their push for the minor premiership with a 2-1 victory over Nepean, who now seem to be finding the back of the net regularly at least once a match.

Round up Round 10

The competition is opening up more than ever now as a result of last weekend's games in which early strugglers Stanmore recorded their third win in four matches in beating early leaders Rockdale Suns 2-1 at Arlington Oval in a thrilling game.

Caretaker coach Ross Anton did his chances of getting the job full time no harm with the win, the decision on a replacement for the post vacated by Eddie Briscoe due to be decided at a committee meeting on Tuesday this week. Adrian Lara gave the Hawks the lead only moments before the break and with the goal coming against the run of play Rockdale were clearly very keen to regain control at the start of the second half. They were rocked by a second goal on the hour, this time by Mario Rositano, but came back strongly with a goal by competition top scorer Spase Najdoski nine minutes later. Stanmore, however, hung on for the three points and in handing out the third loss to Rockdale helped their co-tenants at Arlington Oval, Dulwich Hill, to extend their lead at the top of the table.

Dulwich Hill managed a fine 4-0 win at Mona Park the previous day against a very competitive Auburn United. In ideal football conditions the two sides were evenly matched in the first half, with the woodwork denying both teams, but the introduction of captain Tom Pontidas had given Dulwich fresh impetus after the midfielder joined the fray at the half hour mark. Pontidas had arrived three minutes late at the ground and coach Bill Pilovski enforced his strict rule to have his skipper warming the bench.

The opening goal came five minutes after the break when Eric Hristodoulou found the top right corner of the net from a superb free kick wide on the left hand side of the penalty area. When Pontidas picked up a loose ball deep in the Auburn half on 65 minutes he was able to make rapid progress upfield and find Louis Dounis moving into the penalty area. The big striker then made it look easy as he strolled past a flat footed defence and angled the ball into the bottom corner of the net. Dounis added a third in the 81st after Eddie Briscoe had split the Auburn defence with a pass to Hristodoulou who in turn set Dounis free again to go on and slip the ball under the body of the keeper. Substitute Rabeh Nasser completed the scoring in the last minute with a cool finish after a short corner saw the ball played to him by Zlatko Momircevski.

Fraser Park met Hurstville City Minotaurs under lights and a crowd of over 500 saw a very absorbing contest, with a 3-1 win for Fraser.

A C United got the better of MSC Liverpool at Hammondville Park in another 3-1 win on the day.

Hajduk Wanderers beat Ryde City 2-1 in a game which was marred by a broken fibula to Ryde keeper Adam Frost which caused a half hour delay until the player could be taken to hospital.

Bathurst were beaten 3-1 by Illawarra Lions in a game which saw them have three goals disallowed by referee Ernie Horvath.

Brett Moran broke the Illawarra defence and slotted the ball past the keeper just as the referee was blowing for half time, depriving the home side of the opening goal. This set the scene for a horror second half. Marshall Soper moved up front and in the 54th minute beat the Bathurst defence to put his Illawarra side one up. The former Socceroo then moved back into the midfield and pushed others forward , among them David McCann who, in the 58th minute, again broke the defence to score and give the visitors a 2-0 lead .

Bathurst were rewarded when David Steptoe let drive from 35 yards to completely beat the keeper and give Bathurst some hope. Scott Mutton came down in the box after a tackle by Soper, but appeals for a penalty went unheeded. .Bathurst's fate was sealed, however, when Steve Kotevski was allowed to run across the face of goal and squeeze the ball past the keeper for a 3 - 1 win.

Division One 2000

And my views for Round 11?

Just the one Saturday game with ROCKDALE entertaining MSC LIVERPOOL at the Soccer Centre in Banksia. Both sides are coming off losses and the home team will be very keen to get back on track after Sunday's loss at Stanmore. No doubt changes will be made as the side has now slumped to three losses in ten games and lost the early initiative.

Leaders DULWICH HILL, on the other hand, have enjoyed good fortune from day one and have picked up several new players as the season has got into full gear. Their latest capture from under the noses of interested Super League clubs, Eddie Briscoe, has been a real bonus coming after he gave up his coaching position at Stanmore.

The weekend game against HURSTVILLE CITY is bound to be tough and if the visitors show the same commitment they did against Fraser Park last weekend then Dulwich will have a real game on their hands. The well marshalled defence at Dulwich is showing all the benefits of years of experience and the game has a special flavour as many of the team played with the Minotaurs last season or in the past.

AUBURN UNITED must put the loss to Dulwich behind them when they take on the very capable HAJDUK WANDERERS at Mona Park. It is game they can definitely win, but not an easy one for either side. Much will depend on the ability of the Hajduk defence to contain the lively Navid Varess and Auburn keeping a tight rein on Jay Anderson and Jim Boudaher.

ILLAWARRA LIONS, no doubt buoyed by their win at Bathurst and strong showings generally of late, tussle with RYDE CITY who are yet to record a win in a season which is one of rebuilding.

The Lions should not take this one too lightly as Ryde are on the verge of a breakthrough and this game could well provide it.

A C UNITED are perhaps finally getting to the stage where they can say that a top five place is beckoning. They meet a despondent BATHURST 75 who really are in a trough of despair after some recent results have left them completely out of sorts. They won't come much tougher than this, either, with A C on a bit of a roll now. Having beaten the likes of Stanmore and MSC Liverpool it would be a huge hiccup if they tripped up here. A C may get all those goals they have been threatening to score when they go on parade this week.

FRASER PARK are showing great inconsistency. They came back from beating Rockdale to lose to Hurstville at home and will be meeting a STANMORE HAWKS who planned to announce their new coach on Tuesday night. This means that the game will probably be his first in charge unless Ross Anton continues in the role for at least one more week or is handed the job permanently. Stanmore have won 3 out of their last 4 and beaten some useful sides. There is no reason why they should not beat Fraser Park either.

SECOND DIVISION 2000

by Paul Goodwin

The Round-Up for Round 10

Greystanes maintained their lead at the top of the Second Division with an exciting 3-2 win at Sydney Athletic Field against a well regarded Hakoah.

Hakoah was ahead inside a minute when Terry Sperber got in behind the defence to spring the offside trap and it was only seven minutes later that the experienced campaigner scored again, this time from a header off a corner. Greystanes fought back well with a goal from Stuart Neilson arriving in the 35th minute and it was only ten minutes after the break that Todd Harper whacked in the equaliser for the visitors. Scott Cumming was able to give Greystanes the lead in the 70th by ramming the ball home from close range, but the same player was sent off for a deliberate handball offence inside the box, in defending a Hakoah raid and a penalty was awarded. Hakoah unfortunately smashed the spot kick against the crossbar and Greystanes managed to hold on with the ten men to secure the all-important win.

Hurstville ZSC, meanwhile, continue to impress after their usual slow start and ran out 4-1 winners over a plucky Central Coast Lakers at Hurstville Oval.

Belmore were brought back to earth with a thump after some pleasing results lately when going down narrowly to University of NSW at Blick Oval. After Scott Johnson was brought down in the box in the 80th minute Uni captain Nestor Moreno stepped up at the far end of Blick Oval to give his side a winning lead with a well placed spot kick.

White City accounted for Sydney District 3-1 with goals from Radovan Filipovic, Momir Glusac and Dragan Skoric on a perfect pitch at Chisholm Park on the Saturday after the game had looked like falling victim to the elements at one stage.

Sydney University lost valuable ground when beaten 1-0 by Mount Pritchard at St Paul's College on Saturday. A Peter Vrlic header from a corner in the 14th minute proved enough to see the Mounties home and pressing once more for a place among the top four at the end of the season.

Hills United's match with Mount Druitt was washed out by Friday, but weekend conditions encouraged the two clubs to plan a quick re-arrangement for the following Tuesday.

And for Round 11, what do I foresee?

Saturday's games are attractive fare, with leaders GREYSTANES entertaining improvers UNIVERSITY OF NSW at Bathurst Street Park in the first of two big ones on the day.

The unbeaten leaders will be without the versatile flank-man Scott Cumming, who was marched last weekend soon after scoring his side's winner at Hakoah and will face a team which last weekend was able to lower the colours of Belmore Hercules, a team with excellent credentials itself. This is likely to be a very hard fought contest and well worth watching. A draw is a distinct possibility and a healthy sized crowd is sure to be in attendance.

The same day, another equally interesting contest is BELMORE'S hosting of second placed HURSTVILLE ZSC, who are running into top form right now. John Gagro was going to bow out of coaching at the end of last season, but some new players and a realistic chance of winning this year persuaded him to give it another go with Hurstville this year and form has been picking up steadily. His team plays very attractive football and given Belmore's recent defeat this could be one of the closest contests in a long while. Belmore to win.

SYDNEY UNIVERSITY travels to Flockhart Park, Croydon Park, to meet SYDNEY DISTRICT on Sunday with a pressing need for points to regain some lost ground on the leading division. It will not be easy here as District, under new coach Vlado Mickovski, are continuing to improve each week and may be the testing material.

MT PRITCHARD return to Cook Park with some useful points to their name now and will be a very tough opponent for HILLS UNITED. Hills may be recovering from a midweek encounter with Mount Druitt so could be there for the taking if Mounties are in the right mood. A home win by the much stronger Mounties this season is anticipated.

WHITE CITY travel to North Lakes Oval to match their strength with CENTRAL COAST LAKERS.

The free-scoring visitors are going to have to tighten that defence and bearing in mind some recent results by both sides a home win is well on the cards here.

MOUNT DRUITT, perhaps in better shape after a midweek game, can get some useful points from HAKOAH at Popondetta Park if they play to their potential. The Town Rangers are going along nicely for Gary Askew and a few wins in succession would see them well in the race for honours this season. They are this week's tip as Hakoah do not seem to be as strong when they leave their Sydney Athletic Field headquarters.

A late penalty gave the Manly Warringah Dolphins all three points against the Penrith Panthers on a sunny Saturday morning at Cromer Park.

Although the Dolphins always looked slightly the better team, despite a spirited performance from the Panthers, it looked like the game was going to end in a draw until an unfortunate handball late in the game. The ball had been swung in by Jamie Garside from the left-hand side, but the ball bounced more than Panthers defender Will Schroeder anticipated and struck his arm.

Garside had been an influential figure in the second half for the Dolphins, although he had been unable to finish a few good opportunities, but he never looked like missing from the penalty spot to give the home side the only goal of the game.

Just one place separated the teams going into the game, Penrith sitting on nine points after three wins, and Manly eight points after two wins and two draws.

The win was even more meritorius given that the Dolphins were forced to play the last 11 minutes with only ten men, after a defender was sent off for pushing his Penrith opponent off the ball.

Penrith started the game well, getting to any loose balls first, and they showed first on five minutes. There seemed little danger when Sam Wellham received the ball on the half-way line with his back to goal, but he turned well before beating three defenders as he sped towards goal. Unfortunately his final attempt came to nothing.

A minute later Dolphins goalkeeper Corey Stephens saved well from a Daniel Baker effort from the edge of the penalty area. On 12 minutes Penrith goalkeeper Reece Bedot did well to block an effort from Dolphins forward Kane Piper, and then the Panthers Matthew Moseley got in a good position but shot possibly too early from the edge of the penalty area.

The Dolphins were enjoying the more attempts on goal, but most of them were from distance as the Panthers continued to make important challenges. The home side seemed to lift slightly in the second period, and just four minutes after the re-start Garside was unlucky when his attempt hit the corner of the post and crossbar.

Although mainly right-footed Garside was enjoying himself on the left-hand side of the field, and on 40 minutes he went through the defence only to shoot weakly wide. The Dolphins continued to press forward, but it looked like they would be denied after losing a player - until Garside's late penalty gave them the points they deserved.

For Manly, Jackson England looked solid in defence, while Jessie Gough and Garside impressed going forward. The Panthers were well served by Wellham and Kane Rennie. The best player on the park was Baker, who looked a class act in midfield and was unlucky to be on the losing side. A good crowd in attendance enjoyed the efforts of the two teams in what was an interesting and entertaining affair.

Editorial

This week's feature article on 'The Changing Face of Football' touches on an important issue to any sporting club (or other community-based organisation) - the importance of volunteers.

By and large, it has become harder and harder to find volunteers to support the activities of community groups - whether they be male, female, Mum's, Dad's, grandparents or partners. Soccer clubs are no exception.

There are a number of reasons for this.

Firstly, family structures and life have changed.

The old-fashioned nuclear family with Mum at home and the grandparents just around the corner once provided a pool of competent available adult volunteers. However, today Mum is most often the essential second or sole income earner and doesn't have the time for more work. In the Australia of 1954, just 29% of women were in paid employment. In 1998, that figure was 59%.The number of single-parent families is growing (8% of all families in 1984; 15% in 1997), and most are headed by women (85%).

Second, we're increasingly hoping that our volunteers are computer literate, and some volunteers may not have that extra time required to learn a new skill if required to do so.

Third, the motivation for a person to become involved in a volunteer capacity is varied and ranges from commitment to the cause (ie. football) through to putting their skills to use.

It's critical to be able to tap into the motivation of individuals and fulfill their need. There are so many tasks with which a volunteer can help a club and for individual clubs, this may range from every job that needs to be done through to some key tasks on match-days.

Having a plan for recruiting and managing volunteers is just as important as recruiting and managing paid staff. As with staff, it is important that the volunteers:

* are clear about their role
* understand their limit of responsibilities
* have someone to turn to if they need assistance (a useful role for Board members perhaps), and
* have fun!

Volunteers need to feel thanked and appreciated or they won't stick around, and they can be thanked without it costing a fortune. Finish the season with a thank-you barbecue just for them, buy the volunteers a case of beer, get the Board members to each thank several volunteers personally for their efforts. As noted in Peter Smith's story, Sutherland awarded their-long standing canteen manager, Van Bucek, with Life Membership for dedication to the club.

The volunteer experience also needs to be a positive one so they do not burn out and want (or need) a rest just when you need them most. Even routine tasks can be pleasant if the motivation is right, the company is good and, of course, the football is enjoyable.
